

ANOMALY OF PROFILES.

How often have we sat directly opposite a comely face in the street car...

Justice Foster's characterization of "joy riding" as "thieving" coupled with his imposition upon the prisoner...

Two British assistant army physicians committed suicide in London and the inquest resulted in the attribution of their self-murder to insanity caused by overwork.

Save the babies. So many people are getting lynched and killed in automobile and motor cycle races...

The charge is that all the microbes not otherwise disposed of, amounting to several billions if not more, attach themselves to the public roller towel.

"What are you going to do with your boy in summer?" asks a correspondent. For the correct answer many a parent will have to inquire of the boy.

One hundred guests fled from a Cincinnati hotel fire in their night clothes, which must have been embarrassing to those who travel without night clothes.

New York is going to try vacuum street cleaning. This we submit is infinitely better than taking your streets out into the back yard and beating them.

Some people seem to wait patiently from one June to another for the purpose of making a plea for shirtwaists for postmen and sunbonnets for horses.

Five-sixths of the burlesque houses in New York city are rated in a Russell Sage foundation report as demoralizing. It is apparent, therefore, that the investigators attended the shows.

A school of music has been opened in Bangkok, Siam, and the Bangkokese are said to be bidding for a symphony orchestra. They are highly musical.

There is a Chicago woman who wants to get rid of a husband whom she won on a bet. The moral is: Never bet.

A new gun for the battleship Texas will hit the enemy 12 miles away, provided the enemy will be accommodating enough not to dodge.

The death of a Chicago man is attributed to the fact that he wore tight shoes. Yet Chicago women thrive and grow fat on such a form of torture.

Lightning was too quick for an Ohio telephone girl. It rendered her insensible before she could say "line's busy."

Chewing gum has been tried for saccharin and acquitted. If tried for its offenses under foot it would be lynched.

LORIMER CASE INVESTIGATION

Intimation That Prosecution May Follow.

LORIMER PUT UP TO TAFT.

Edward Hines, the Chicago Lumberman, Alleged to Have Collected the $100,000 Sush Fund, on the S and.

Washington.—Intimation that prosecution of certain witnesses for perjury would grow out of the Senate investigation of the election of Senator Lorimer was forthcoming Thursday during the examination of Edward Hines...

Mr. Hines' first testimony that attracted deep interest was his detailed account of how he said President Taft, former Senator Aldrich and Senator Penrose had him exert his influence to have Mr. Lorimer elected to the Senate.

Mr. Hines then detailed in its entirety the testimony of Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester Company, regarding the conversation the two men had at the Union League Club...

Mr. Hines added that when he mentioned the proposed introduction Mr. Lorimer objected, because he regarded Mr. Funk as one of his active enemies. When the Senator explained to Mr. Hines that he had no election expenses to defray, Mr. Hines said he decided not to mention Mr. Funk's offer.

Subsequently, he said, Mr. Funk expressed disappointment over the outcome of his conversation with Mr. Hines, but continued very cordial, even asking Mr. Hines to get him a seat in the Senate gallery here last 4th of March, and to introduce Mrs. Funk to Mrs. Hines on one occasion last spring.

Mr. Hines also contradicted in toto the testimony given by Wirt H. Cook, of Duluth, Minn.

During the day Mr. Hines put into the record copies of all the telegrams which had been sent to him by Senator Lorimer since the latter's election, with the exception of one, which he declared he never received.

He told the committee that all his personal checks and those of the companies with which he was connected were open to its inspection.

BOY AVIATOR BREAKS RECORD

Flew to Harvard-Yale Boat Race With Passenger and is Widely Cheered.

New London.—Harry N. Atwood, the boy aviator, in a Burgess-Wright biplane, made a flight of 107 miles, carrying a passenger, in order to witness the Harvard-Yale boat races here, covering the distance in 125 minutes without alighting, averaging 51.56 miles an hour...

One hundred thousand visitors who had come to New London and were about to leave for the race-course forgot all about college rooting and cheered wildly when Atwood circled twice around the Grotton Monument, directly across the Thames River from the New Haven Railroad station...

Secretary of the Navy Meyer and party aboard the United States dispatch boat Dolphin applauded Atwood wildly, and the great fleet of yachts on both sides of the race-course tied down their whistles and fired salute after salute from their cannon.

After passing the Dolphin, Atwood picked out the west bank of the river for a landing place. He volplaned from a height of 1,000 feet in two magnificent sweeps and landed lightly on the ground in Riverside Park, to the north of the drawbridge.

Atwood arose in the air from the Harvard athletic field at Squantum, at 7:05 A. M., having his mechanic, Eddie Fleet, as a passenger. He passed over Brockton, sailing 1,000 feet high at a 90-mile clip, aided by a fresh 20-mile breeze at his back.

Washington.—The Senate Committee on Census agreed to report the Congressional Reapportionment Bill without amendment providing for 433 representatives, notwithstanding practically all the committee members had expressed themselves as opposed to the increased representation.

REAPPORTIONMENT PASSED

Bill Adopted by Senate Without Amendment.

Washington.—The Senate Committee on Census agreed to report the Congressional Reapportionment Bill without amendment providing for 433 representatives, notwithstanding practically all the committee members had expressed themselves as opposed to the increased representation.

The bill provides for 42 representatives over the present number and was framed so as to prevent a decrease of the membership from any state. Three of the 10 members present, Senators La Follette, DuPont and McLean, voted in the negative, but while expressing disapproval of the increase the other seven decided to allow the House to have its way in the matter so peculiarly pertaining to its own affairs.

When a number of the excited passengers failed to take this advice the bandits opened fire. They shot along the sides of the cars, level with the windows and this effectively put an end to the curiosity of the passengers.

Within the cars there was a panic. A number of women fainted, while the screams of others caused much confusion.

The train arrived in this city about midnight. The passengers, dazed from fright, could not give a connected story of what had taken place. Many of the women were hysterical and required attention.

A large number of those aboard were from Philadelphia, Buffalo and intermediate points. The train was made up of four day coaches and two Pullmans. It meets the through Philadelphia and Buffalo train at Emporium, Pa.

According to opinion here, it is not a train that expert robbers could be expected to attack. It is believed the bandits were foreigners.

Panic in the Train

Within a few moments after word of the holdup was received here every officer in the city was called into action. Many of them boarded a special train for the scene, while others were taken there in automobiles and other conveyances.

Albert Carey, engineer, by making a quick stop of the train probably prevented a serious disaster. Railroad men say had the heavy train struck the obstruction with much force it would have thrown the entire train from the track and down over the embankment.

HOLDUP EXPRESS IN WESTERN STYLE

Gang of Dozen Masked Men Rob Train.

WOMEN ABOARD TRAIN FAINT.

Passenger Kept Inside by Fusillade of Bullets—Train Nearly Thrown Down Embankment.

Erie, Pa.—A fast mail and passenger train on the Philadelphia and Erie Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad was held up five miles from this city by a band of a dozen masked men.

The mail and express cars were rifled, and three of the crew—C. H. Block, of Erie, mail clerk, and H. D. Rooney, Erie, conductor, and C. F. Bennis, brakeman—were injured. Block was shot in the right side and was taken to a hospital in a dying condition.

The train was due in this city at 10:10 P. M. A few minutes before 10 o'clock, when the train was making a long curve, the engineer saw an obstruction ahead. He stopped the train with all possible speed, but not before it crashed into ties and telegraph poles that had been placed across the track.

Rovers Cracked

When the train hit the obstruction it was first believed by the passengers that there had been a collision with another train. The next moment, however, the crack of revolvers acquainted them with the real cause of the train's stop.

As the train came to a standstill several of the passengers alighted to ascertain the trouble. Their presence drew the fire of the band of masked men, and there was a stampede to re-enter the cars.

An unknown passenger, who, braver than the rest, caught hold of one of the robbers, was picked up bodily and thrown over a 300-foot embankment. His condition is serious. The man's head, face and body were badly cut and his clothing torn from his back. He was taken to a hospital in an unconscious condition.

The spot selected by the robbers was ideal for their work. On one side of the railroad is a large ravine and on the other side is a dense woods. It was from this point that all of them made their appearance when the train came to a stop.

Almost before the train had reached the obstruction the masked band had taken up their positions at practically every entrance to the cars. When the passengers began pouring from the train there were a few sharp cries from the men to get back into the cars.

When a number of the excited passengers failed to take this advice the bandits opened fire. They shot along the sides of the cars, level with the windows and this effectively put an end to the curiosity of the passengers.
